

BARGAINING UPDATE

OCTOBER 16, 2024

Strike votes completed across the province

To our fellow CUPE school support staff across Nova Scotia: thank you! We have completed strike votes in each of our eight locals!

Over the past couple of weeks, members volunteered their time making calls, collecting votes on multiple days at multiple locations, and visiting fellow members in almost every community across the province.

Collective bargaining is about all of us. It's about us mobilizing as a collective and taking coordinated action to achieve our common goals. It's about us, together—because we are stronger together. Conducting the strike votes is one of those actions, we should all be proud of 5,000 workers, in eight locals, at hundreds of worksites for coming together and supporting each other.

This week we are counting ballots. Once we know the result of the strike vote, we will send out another update to our members. Please watch out for more information in the next week.

Any questions, please reach out to your local executive.
